Snuff Puppets' roving giant puppets get up to all sorts of mischief whilst creating grand-scale interactive spectacles. Larger than life and towering above audience heads, they are the perfect versatile outdoor attraction - from guerilla style street theatre and interventions through to large-scale outdoor festivals.

Our roaming acts appeal to all ages. The puppets are cheeky and playful with children, while taunting and badgering adults for attention with their mischievous but charming flair. Their non-verbal performances universally transcend linguistic and cultural barriers.

All acts can be scaled to suit national and international touring, small one-off events, large festival galas and parades.
